

A Labor of Love!

Labor Day often marks the end of the summer on many people's calendars. I see it as a traditional weekend of picnics and barbecues and outdoors activities. Our family heads for the lake and lots of good food and time together with friends. We also have a host of family birthdays to celebrate at this time of year and BIG plans for my daughters 40th birthday this year.

WOW! There is a lot going on, and nowhere in there do I see an ending - just lots more to do and celebrate in 2018!

But I want to toast a different "family" on this special weekend. My APS team is my special family and also to our clients. We do what we do as a "Labor of Love ♥️." We love being able to help our clients during times of transition. We love getting to know them, hearing their life stories and seeing them through the process of downsizing and moving.

We work with all ages, in all seasons of life, and the one common thread I hear from our clients is what a great group of people we have. They marvel at how kind they are and how they listen. They work so hard and efficiently and help guide the client through each decision or quandary. One recent client said "I don't know why you think this fun, but you all clearly love what you do." And they do, and we do, and I do because of such a great team!

Enjoy your Happy Labor Day holiday!
